Albany Revenue Office Relocating Friday, May 21

ATLANTA – The Department of Revenue's Albany Regional Office will be closed Friday, May 21 while it is moved to a new facility at 1105-D, West Broad Avenue. The office will be open for business at the new location Monday, May 24 beginning at 8 a.m.

"We will be able to provide better service to southwest-Georgia taxpayers in a more private environment because of the additional space at the new location," said Office Manager Bennie Butler.

The new office has approximately 7,000 square feet compared to 3,000 square feet at the present location. The Department will also save $3.83 per square foot in rental fees.

Butler said other advantages of the new location include increased customer parking, private conference rooms and the office's proximity to downtown.

"We will have the same telephone numbers at our new location and our office hours will remain 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.," Butler added.

The Albany move is the first of several initiatives involving the Revenue Department's Regional offices and internal organization.

"We are constantly looking for ways in which we can provide better service to taxpayers, provide better work environments for our employees and reduce our costs," said Georgia Revenue Commissioner Bart L. Graham. "With these objectives in mind, we will be announcing some additional moves and organizational changes in the near future."
